Support for University Activities

Portuguese Writer-in-Residence

The Portuguese Writer in Residence program sponsored by the Portuguese Studies Program was inaugurated during the academic year 2001-2002. This year the author Pepetela was at Berkeley during the month of April. Pepetela is a published poet novelist whose works had been previously read by students in Portuguese Literature Classes. During his stay at Berkeley, Pepetela, whose residency was co-sponsored by the Department of Spanish and Portuguese and by the Townsend Center for the Humanities, was available on a daily basis to all students and faculty who wished to discuss any matter related to his work. Additionally, Pepetela visited all classes of Portuguese, and participated in several events held during his residency. The residency was extremely successful and rewarding, and the PSP is looking forward to the 2003-2004 academic year. The Portuguese writer Lidia Jorge has been invited by PSP to come to Berkeley as the 2003-2004 Portuguese Writer in Residence. Hopefully, Ms. Jorge will accept the invitation and the PSP will have the honor of her presence during the spring of 2004. The seminar will provide a forum for students interested in exploring the interface of folklore and anthropology. Grades will be based on classroom participation, including at least one presentation in class, and a term research paper.

Library Acquisitions

Once again the PSP renewed its grant of $2,000.00 for the purchase of Portuguese materials. As in the past, this grant will be matched by the UC Berkeley Library, and has resulted in dramatically improving an already impressive collection of Portuguese literature, history, and social science. In Spring 2003, PSP awarded $1,500 for Ann Marie Mitchell's highly successful trip to Portuguese cities and the Azores to improve the selection and acquisition of Portuguese materials. Mostly due to the grants received from PSP over the years, the UC Berkeley Library has been able to purchase a very large number of Portuguese Books, and now has one of the largest collections of Portuguese books in the United States. Please see attached list of purchases.

Additionally, the PSP donated to the Bancroft Library a copy of Footprints in the soil: A Portuguese-California Remembers by Rose Peters Emery, and edited by the Portuguese Heritage Publications. Ms. Peters was also one of the people interviewed for the Portuguese Oral History Project being conducted by the Bancroft Library. This highly illustrated book is the first of its kind to catalog the Portuguese presence in California focusing the activities of the Holy Ghost Celebrations throughout the State.

Regional Oral History Office (ROHO)

For the third year, the PSP has continued its commitment to supporting the collection of oral histories of members of the Portuguese-American community in California with a grant of $5,000.00. In 2000 Kathy Zvanovec convened the Portuguese Oral History Project Advisory Committee. At that time, ROHO provided a grant matching the $5,000 granted by the PSP in Spring 2000. The PSP and ROHO approached the Department of Spanish and Portuguese with the project, and the Department expressed interest in having its students of Portuguese work on oral history projects as part of their training. At the LAEF conference in Spring 2001, Kathy Zvanovec made the oral history project a point of community outreach. With themes and strategies now decided, the ROHO project is set to begin interviews. In Spring 2002 PSP awarded an additional grant in the amount of $5,000.00 in order to expand the number of interviewees.

The Advisory Committee is composed of the following members:

Deolinda Adão, LAEF, PSP Coordinator, Graduate Student, Department of Spanish and Portuguese.

Duarte Batista, Supreme Secretary & Treasurer, Portuguese Union of the State of California (UPEC)

Richard Candida Smith, Acting Director, ROHO

Donald Warrin, Professor Emeritus, California State University, Hayward

Kathy Zvanovec-Higby, Project Organizer, ROHO

Lectures and Colloquia

The PSP sponsored or co-sponsored a number of lectures and colloquia in the 2000-2001 academic year.

September 9, 2002 and February, 14, 2003, Student Social. The PSP sponsored an event with the intent of bringing together Portuguese and Luso-American students, as well as all other students interested in the study of Portuguese or matters related to Portugal. The event provided a venue for student dialog with each other and with PSP. The event was very successful and very well attended. Student expressed a desire to get together in this sort of somewhat informal setting at least once per semester.

October 23, 24, & 25, 2002. Professor Fernando da Mota Lima of the Universidade Federal de Pernambuco conducted a lecture series with the title: The Continuity of April 28, 2003 Recital by Pepetela, Portuguese Writer-in-residence. The recital commemorated the closing of Pepetela's residence at UC Berkeley, and counted with the participation of Luso-American students, and students of Portuguese. The recital was co-sponsored by the Spanish and Portuguese Department, the Townsend Center for the Humanities, and by the PSP.

April 25, 2003, Professor Benedita Camara, of the Universidade da Madeira, delivered the lecture the Evolution of the Hotel Sector in Portugal: 1950-1995. The lecture was sponsored by the PSP.

April 25, 2003, Assistant Professor Pedro Ressano Garcia, of the Universidade Lusofona delivered the lecture Architecture and design. The lecture was sponsored by the Architecture Department and the PSP.

April 30, 2002, Professor Alvaro Gomes, of the Universidade de São Marcos, Brasil spoke on Uma Paródia das Conquistas: As Naus de Lobo Antunes. The lecture was sponsored by the PSP.

Special Events:

October 7, 2002 Alfred Lewis Centennial Celebration. The event commemorated the 100th anniversary of the birth of Portuguese Writer Alfred Lewis. At the event the following presentations were made: Mr. Jose Corvelo – Alfred Lewis: Poeta da Ilha das Flores, Alamo de Oliveira – As Cores na Poesia de Alfred Lewis, and Professor Donald Warrin – Alfred Lewis: Poet of the People. The event also included poetry readings by Regina Meireles, Gabriela Silva, and Diniz Borges, and a musical program by Armando Meireles and Victor Casatro. The event was sponsored by the direcção Regional da Comunidades, Azores and by the PSP.

December 2, 2002. Book Release and Lecture by Professor Haquira Osakabe of the Universidade de São Paulo, Brasil and Professor Maria Lucia dal Farra of the Universidade Federal do Sergipe. The Books released were Afinado Desconcerto and Livro de Possuidos by Professor Dal Farra, and Fernando Pessoa – Resosta a Decadencia by Haquira Osakabe. The event was sponsored by the Townsend Center for the Humaniteis and by the PSP.

May 2 & 3, 2003. The Portuguese Studies Program sponsored the publication of the first bilingual anthology of contemporary Azorean Poets with the title On a Leaf of Blue. The publication was released with a reading of poetry and public release. On May 3rd. the book was presented during a cultural event targeting the Portuguese Community of California. The event was very well attended and the publication has generated a great amount of interest in the academic circles as well as with the general public.

Other activities:

On April 26 and 27, Deolinda Adao represented the PSP at the Luso American Education Foundation annual conference with this year was held in the city of San Jose. In addition to participating in all the activities of these events, Ms. Adao announced that the Luso-American Education Foundation conference to be held in the Spring of 2004, will take place at the University of California, Berkeley campus.
